EDUCATION

the definition

Generally, to common people education means the educational degree from institutions like school, college or universities. That is a form of education, it's true; but it's not everything about education! The concept of education is very vast. It cannot be defined within a single sentence or a paragraph. Education or knowledge can be gathered from any where, any situation or person of any age or class. Many talented people who never got admitted to any educational institutions has shown much more better things than any other educated persons. Such as: Lalon Shah or Rabindranath Tagore. Many farmers who don't even know how to write are much more conscious and conceptually or intellectually developed than any other educated people. So, from here we can say the words of Promoth Chowdhurty, "Self education is the best education." Many people have defined education in many ways with many definitions. But the best knowledge or education is the knowledge of the Quran, learning the Quran, knowing the Quran.
